“ I just found out about Randy's passing. My condolences to the family. Randy used to come into the plant where I worked ( AWTEC) and service our equipment. I felt like he was one of my friends. Always enjoyed talking to him. He was a very likeable guy and very hard worker. Hard for me to believe that he has moved on.

“ The last time my sisters and I went to Virginia was with our dad in my car to visit his sister Barb in the hospital. I demanded to drive there and back. All these years he made the trip and never complained, never showed he was tired. I remember I hit his brother Rocky's mailbox backing out of the driveway as we headed home. He never let me live it down lol He taught me how to change a tire. He taught me how to do my own oil change, how to cut the grass. He even showed me how to charge my battery when my car died in the middle of winter. He never failed to help anyone or show someone how to do things. All those jokes about kids holding the flashlights for their dads while they fix cars? That was me. I hope to teach my sisters and my kids one day all the things he passed on to me.

“ another memory with him was his love of pro wrestling! I remember we would always have debates of who was better, ultimate warrior or sgt. slaughter! It's unfortunate that I never really got to see him in my adult life, but that shows the kind of man he was to have legit conversations with a kid about kid stuff...

Yes! He used to take me to so many matches! I called Rick Rude an asshole, saw Jake the Snake Snake, watched HBK and Hulk Hogan. So many fond memories of time spent with him💔

“ One memory that always sticks out to me, way back when I was still in high school I lived miles away from school, it was middle of winter, fresh snow for days... my dad works overnight shifts and I wasn't driving yet, so Uncle Randy would take time out of his day to drive all the way to my house to pick me up and take me to school, always was appreciated!! The best part, is he would show up wearing nothing but tighty whities! Always makes me laugh and I will never forget his kindness, unselfishness, and overall a great man! You will be missed

“ One of my favorite memories is going to see the Detroit Tigers play at Tigers Stadium and then Comerica Park with him. We always had so much fun watching opening day on TV and watching the planes flying over the house.
