“ I remember one Christmas, Rick was staying at the Salvation Army. He had no money, no job, no car, nothing. While staying there He picked up some hand made mittens, scarfs, hat, blankets, and trinkets. He brought them to the family Christmas party. He proudly gave them out. Some may not thought much of these gifts, but they came from his heart. Showing his kindness within, I still have the mittens.
wish I could of helped him more with his problems.

“ Rest in Peace Rick. We had a lot of fun as kids playing in particular up north, catching lightning bugs, playing hide-n-go-seek and running through the woods like "Wild Indians" as Ma would say. May you be at peace and rest in comfort. your sister Alice
